Dr. Khavari to Stay

GALION – Already established in New Washington as a Family Practice physician, Fereshte Khavari, M.D. has announced that she will remain in the community but will change employers. Effective May 1, she will become part of the physician team of Galion Community Hospital.

“Continuity of care is very important to me and my patients are practically a second family,” commented Dr. Khavari. “I enjoy my practice here in New Washington, and Galion Community Hospital has offered the support needed at this time to assure that I remain.”

Dr. Khavari came to New Washington from her practice in Woodsfield, located in southeast Ohio. She is a graduate of Wright State University School of Medicine in Dayton and completed her Family Practice residency at Barberton Citizens Hospital. She has been board certified in Family Medicine since July 2000 and fully licensed in Ohio since 1998.

She will remain at her current address at 120 W. Main Street in New Washington. Her phone number will also stay the same at (419) 492-2200.
